

The 3rd District of New Jersey covers most of Burlington and Ocean Counties as well as Cherry Hill in Camden County. The coastal towns, which include Toms River, Long Beach Island and others, are major tourist destinations.

The presence of Fort Dix, McGuire Air Force Base, and Lakehurst Naval Station make the 3rd District an important military hub. The district also contains the nation's first Federal Reserve, the Pine Barrens which is home to hundreds of species of animal and plant and produces one of the largest cranberry crops in America.

This diverse district offers all the comforts of suburban life with easy access to the city, world-class beaches and natural gems.
